Dear Dr. Payne,

It is with sincere appreciation that we extend our thanks to JDS Computers and those who have made this computer possible and available to Rose at no cost to her. Arrangements have been made to also give her a printer, paper, no charge internet access, and e-mail.

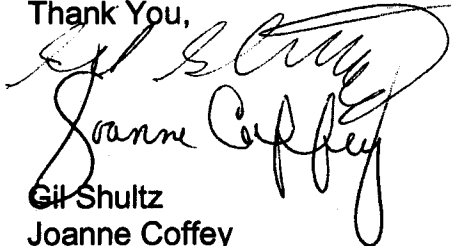

When I called to tell her that the computer was ready to be delivered, she was very appreciative, but also sad because she would not be physically able to use it for a few weeks. This is because of the pain and the large amount of pain medication her doctor has prescribed. Although very groggy, she did ask me to please say, "Thank you". She said the first thing she wants to do is learn how to write a letter so she can write a thank you letter to you for this fantastic gift.

Although I have only known her for a few years, she is a fantastic person. There are times when she is incapable of functioning because of the pain and the associated problems with its treatment. Since her accident a few years back, she has been in constant pain and has been classified disabled. Her only income is federal disability.

I hope that in time, the treatments she is receiving will resolve the pain and enable her to go back to work. The skills she will gain with the computer and the knowledge she will acquire from the Internet will be invaluable. This will make a tremendous and positive impact on her employability a few years from now as she recovers. The computer will be a welcome distraction from her pain.

She is a member and secretary of the Golden Dimensions, a senior organization from the Church of The Holy Family in Novi. Currently it takes her a lot of time to write in longhand the minutes etc. for the meetings. "The Golden Dimensions," she says, "is my whole life".

Thank You,

Gil Shultz
